MADRID PREPARES FOR SIEGE BY FASCISTS

Orange Mexican Held in Fatal Stabbing Case

VICTIM DIES FROM GASH ON HEAD

Bitter Fight Was Result
Of Citrus Pickers'
Recent Strike

A blood-stained knife was being examined by fingerprint experts today as Orange police held Felberto Becerra, 33, on suspicion of murder in the fatal stabbing Saturday night of Paul Balderrama, 24-year-old Mexican.

Gashed twice on the head, slashed across the back, and stabbed in the shoulder, Balderrama died Saturday night after a clash which witnesses said grew out of last summer's orange pickers' strike.

It was the first murder case in the city of Orange in 25 years.

Caught Quickly

Witnesses said Becerra, armed with a short pocket knife, first accosted the Rev. A. B. Escobedo as he walked along North Cypress street in Orange Saturday night.
Finding he was talking with a minister, he said he crossed the street and dashed into a small group of men in which Balderrama was standing. Balderrama was stabbed four times. Becerra fled up the street.

He was caught half a block from the scene by Thomas Towns, Orange police officer who arrived just after the stabbing. Meanwhile Officer John Elitiste held Julian Alcantar, 21, as a material witness. He was booked at the county jail on drunk charges.

Alcantar and another witness, bystanders said, carried the wounded man across the street to his home, where he died an hour later.

Investigate Knife

An autopsy was held this afternoon, and an inquest was pending. Orange police said no charges would be filed until a district attorney's investigation is completed, probably tomorrow.

The blood-stained knife, found this morning by investigating officers, was being examined by the sheriff's office identification men for possible fingerprints. Becerra made no statement, officers said. He was slightly intoxicated at the time and appeared to be "looking for a fight," they reported.

Police said the stabbing, which occurred at 10:30 Saturday night, was the second fracas in a week arising out of the citrus strike.
Last week two Mexican were separated as they were battling each other with a pair of orange clippers, and told officers the argument resulted from a discussion of the strike.

SLAYER OF FOUR IN CONFESSION

ELKO, Nev. (AP)—Officers guarded Luther Jones, 32, an ex-convict, against possible lynching attempts today after he allegedly confessed killing four men, three of them prominent cattle ranchers, in a $40 holdup here.

Sheriff C. A. Harper said Jones, former Indiana and Montana convict, calmly confessed shooting the four men in a cabin near the Elko stockyards.

Jones' asserted confession came after the three ranchers, who disappeared from the stockyards Friday, were found dead with the fourth victim in the cabin Saturday. Each had been shot in the head.

QUAKES ROCK NORTH ITALY

20 Killed, 30 Injured by Tembors That Cause
Heavy Damage

VITTORIO, Italy. (AP)—Light earth shocks in this section of northern Italy where an earthquake brought death and destruction yesterday, created fresh apprehension today.

The new tremors sent residents rushing into the streets of the mountain town. The shocks began at 9 a. m. today and continued for several minutes.

Yesterday's earthquake damaged virtually every house in the town.
Some must be razed, others probably will be repaired. Several streets were closed to traffic as cracked walls and shattered beams threatened to collapse on pedestrians.

Damage in this one town alone was estimated at 5,000,000 lire.

TERRIFIED RESIDENTS CAMP IN OPEN FIELDS

CANEVA VI SACCILE, Italy. (AP)
Terrified residents of northern Italy camped in open fields today in fear of recurring earthquakes which killed 20 persons and injured 30 others.

The majority of the casualties came from tumbling walls in sharp earth shocks which started at dawn yesterday.

A dozen houses in this region were destroyed while 300 others were damaged so seriously engineers ordered them abandoned.

Principal sufferers from the tragedy were farmers living in small houses throughout this rich vineyard area.

DOCK PEACE IS PREDICTED

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Rear Admiral Harry G. Hamlet of the marine commission met with shipowners here today and declared he was hopeful of bringing a permanent peace out of Pacific coast labor disputes.

"I am out here to lay the groundwork for a permanent peace," Admiral Hamlet said. "I believe it is possible for both sides to work in harmony."

Admiral Hamlet, with but seven days left in which to complete his investigation before Oct. 26, the deadline set by maritime unions, planned to confer with shipowners throughout the day.

19 DROWN IN LAKE BOAT TRAGEDY

Seven Rescued After Sand Sucker Sinks
On Lake Erie

CLEVELAND. (AP)—The cold, treacherous waters of Lake Erie held today the bodies of 18 men and one woman, victims of a 50-mile gale which overturned and sunk the 252-foot Canadian sand sucker, Sand Merchant, in the second major disaster of the 1936
Great Lakes season.

Of 25 aboard, only seven remained today to tell how a majority of their benumbed companions dropped off, one by one, from the two capsized lifeboats to which they clung through a terrifying night of waiting. For 10 hours they watched unseeing ships pass them. Then daylight brought their rescue five miles off Cleveland.

Captain Rescued

One of the seven rescued was Graham MacLelland, 39-year-old captain of the gale-stricken ship.
Another was Herman Dault, crane operator, who lost two brothers—the second just 30 minutes before the rescue yesterday morning.

"It was the most terrible night that you could possibly imagine," said Captain MacLelland.
"I owe my life to Dault and John L. Ideson, the three of us left of the seven hanging to our lifeboat.
Just after I gave the signal to man the boats we overturned like a flash."

"No Warning"
"There was no warning. The first thing I knew I was in the water and something hit me. I don't remember where, and I don't remember a light. The next thing I remember was someone pulling my hair and it made me mad."

"During the night several boats passed within sight, in fact one was only about a quarter of a mile away. We had no way to attract their attention. Several times Dault and Ideson pulled me back on the lifeboat when I thought I was gone. After 10 hours of hanging on, we were rescued."

It was the second sand sucker tragedy on the Great Lakes this season. The Material Service sank off Chicago on July 27 with 15 lost.

MAN CHARGES KIDNAPING

T. B. Jenkins, elderly Garden Grove resident, was virtually kidnaped last night and held until midnight in a Santa Ana apartment house, according to a story told to sheriff's officers and the district attorney today.

Jenkins, according to his son,
B. W. Jenkins, was forced to submit to a medical examination and sign some papers. The nature of the documents was not made known.

The son told sheriff's officers early this morning that his father was picked up on Seventh street, a mile east of Long Beach, late yesterday, by a motorist who gave him the name as M. B. Allen.

Allen, the report said, told
Jenkins he was a deputy sheriff.
He took Jenkins as far as Garden Grove and the pair continued to Santa Ana in Jenkins' car, said the report.

Here, the son said, Allen took Jenkins into an apartment at 103 East Eleventh street, where they stayed until midnight; then telephoned the son to call for the elderly man.

The case was turned over to the district attorney's office this afternoon for investigation.

Citizens Boost Tax Payments

Only five counties in the state of California have decreased their tax delinquencies by a higher percentage than has Orange county, figures released by Tax Collector
John C. Lamb today show.

Total delinquencies in this county are 5.55 per cent, as compared to 9.33 per cent for the 1934-35 fiscal year. This is a reduction of 3.78 per cent of the total.

For the fiscal year 1934-1935, Orange county ranked sixteenth in delinquencies, 15 counties having a lower total. For the fiscal year just passed the county ranks thirteenth, although it is sixth from the standpoint of the percentage of reduction.

The county ranks ninth in the state from the point of population, on which the classification of counties is based.

The highest percentage of decrease in delinquency was reported by Riverside county, which decreased its delinquency from 18.87 per cent to 10.46 per cent during the year.

Ventura county showed the worst figures, decreasing its delinquency only from 7.86 per cent to 7.57 per cent.

WEST HURT IN OLD MURDER CAR MISHAP REOPENED

Flies to Keep Oakland Speaking Date After
Auto Accident

Broken ribs, scratches and bruises, sustained when his car collided with a truck on the Ridge route early Friday morning, did not stop Supervisor N. E. West of Laguna Beach from keeping a speaking appointment before the Oakland City club the next day, reports received here today revealed.

West was on his way to the northern city to speak on the tide-land diving question. Taken to Mercy hospital, Bakersfield, for treatment, the fifth district supervisor told the attending surgeon it was imperative he should reach Oakland the same night for a speaking engagement.

While still being treated for his injuries, he made arrangements for a plane to take him to the northern city. Released from the hospital, West boarded a plane, reached Oakland in time, and delivered his speech.

Incidentally, it was learned that West, not wishing to worry members of his family at Laguna, did not send them any word of his mishap. However, a friend of the family, living in Bakersfield, notified one of West's relatives living in San Francisco, and in this round-about way, word of the accident reached his family at Laguna Beach.

EKINS WINS IN GLOBE RACE

NEW YORK (AP)—H. R. Ekins, world circling reporter, officially ended his trip in the lobby of the New York World-Telegram at 11:14 a. m. today, completing his dash around the globe in slightly more than 18½ days.

Ekins, reporter for the World-Telegram and other Scripps-Howard papers, thus became the official winner of the unofficial race he staged with Dorothy Kilgallen of the New York Journal and International News Service, and Leo Kieran, of the New York Times.

Both of Ekins' rivals still are in Manila, awaiting departure for California of the first passenger flight of the China Clipper, giving Ekins a winning margin of some 10,000 miles.

Anaheim Man Is 'Taken for Ride'

Two unidentified Mexicans who "picked up" Vern Walters, 20, Anaheim, on his way to Anaheim from a Placentia dance, then beat him badly in a robbery attempt, were being sought by sheriff's officers today.

Walters said the two stopped their car to give him a ride late Saturday night, then attempted to take his wallet. After a struggle, he was left near Anaheim, and was treated by a physician for a bad cut on his head.

PRIESTS AND PUPILS ARE MURDERED

J. T. Black Writes Eye Witness Account to

War. Pedestrians shot down in the streets. Harbors choked with floating bodies. Priests, theological students, murdered by machine gun squads. Churches looted and burned. Graves opened and skeletons paraded in the streets. Planes throwing high projectile death into homes, buildings and hospitals.

A Santa Ana man saw it all,
and wrote vividly of his experiences in Spain during the early fury of the civil war there. His letter was made public here today.

He is J. T. Black, graduate of Santa Ana Junior college, and friend of Superior Judge G. K.
Scovel and Mrs. Scovel. Black was attached to the U. S. S. Oklahoma in the chaplain's office, when it was sent to Spain to evacuate refugees.

His letter to Mrs. Scovel tells fully of his experiences there:

Americans in Danger
"It was on the 23rd of July while the U. S. S. Oklahoma was anchored within the breakwaters of the harbor of Cherbourg, France, that a radio message came from the Navy department in Washington, giving orders for us to proceed at once to Spain, where American lives were in danger."

The 375 midshipmen on board the Oklahoma were immediately transferred to the other two ships in the squadron, the Arkansas and Wyoming, much to their sorrow.

'Radio Bath' Is Fatal for Youth

FRESNO (AP)—A boy's desire to have radio music while he bathed yesterday cost the life of 13-year-old Roy Richter of this city.

When his aunt, Marion Arbuckle, became alarmed when she heard no sound coming from the bathroom where he was bathing, she investigated and found him dead in the tub with the radio pulled from its shelf into the water. Investigating officers said they believed the boy turned on the machine, received a shock and upset it into the water.

BOOKIE CASE UNDER WAY

Trial of three men charged with bookmaking and violation of the state horse racing act moved into its third day today, with Alfred W. Worthington, chief investigator of the California racing commission, on the stand before Superior Judge H. G. Ames.

Worthington, as a prosecution witness, identified paraphernalia used in the alleged bookmaking establishment in Anaheim, and explained various forms and procedures used in operation of the business.

The three men on trial are Paul Engel, Robert Lusk and William Hale, all of Anaheim.
Prosecuting Attorney Harold McCabe indicated today an appellate court decision handed down last week by Justice Emerson J. Marks, sitting in San Bernardino, probably would form the basis of the state's move for conviction of the three men.
The decision held that the penal code prohibiting making a book and placing of bets outside a licensed enclosure was not repealed by the state horse racing act, passed in 1933, which legalized pari-mutuel betting.

MORE ABOUT WAR HORRORS

because, being future naval officers, they were anxious to see some action.

Guns Ready
"After taking on fuel from an English oil tanker, we steamed through the rough Bay of Biscay, arriving in the port of Bilbao, Spain, July 24. Not knowing what was going to happen, our guns were ready at all times, should an emergency arise. Our mission was to rescue refugees from the war. Americans first, but all nationalities who were fleeing were received and given the best we had."

"Warships of other nations were in the harbor and treating our people with the same regard, should they need protection before the American bluejackets could arrive to lend a hand. The situation was so tense each day more arrived to seek protection of the dreadnought lying in the harbor."

Headed South

"After getting everyone available in Bilbao, we next went to Santander, 35 miles west, and picked up several people before going to Bayonne, France, to leave our passengers. Immediately after discharging this load, we went back for more. We headed for southern cities, Vigo and Cadiz, after little more than a week of rescue work in the north of Spain. . . . At noon on the 15th of August we steamed out from Gibraltar into the blue Mediterranean, and up the east of Spain for Malaga. This city was still in the hands of the Loyalists, and two of the government's warships were in the harbor. Soon after our arrival they informed us we were in a dangerous position and moved to avoid being hit. We moved, but nothing happened."

Flag Is Protection
"On these two ships the crews had mutinied, shot all the officers but two, and had thrown the bodies overboard. They informed us that they were going to execute the two officers left, and did, with machine guns. We heard the shots."

"During this time, to avoid being mistaken for aircraft for some other nationality, we had painted huge reproductions of the stars and stripes on top of the turrets, visible for several thousand feet. We also were flying flags at both the main and foremast."

"On Aug. 19 we sailed north to Palma, a city of about 60,000 population, on the Island of Mallorca. We arrived there about noon of the 20th, and at 5 o'clock that afternoon we witnessed the bombing of the city by three Loyalist planes that suddenly appeared from the north."

Buildings Wrecked
The raid lasted for perhaps an hour. The planes were high, and the anti-aircraft guns on the ground did no damage to them, while they wrecked several buildings with their bombs."

"We took several refugees there, and sailed to Marseille, France, . . . Leaving Marseille on the 24th, our next stop was Barcelona, Spain, where the Loyalists were really tearing up the city. . . . They were burning and looting churches; also opening the crypts and displaying skeletons in the streets. One of the saddest incidents was the murdering of 140 students of a religious school. All were young men studying for the clergy."

Bodies in Bay
"Not being any refugees there, we steamed south, stopping at Valencia, and then on to Malaga again. By the time of our arrival, Aug. 26, things were in a horrible state of war."

"People appearing on the streets were shot down in cold blood, no questions asked. Bodies were floating in the bay. Some whose limbs were missing; but whether they had been shot off or bitten off by fish, we could not tell."

"Our stay there this time was only overnight, then we sailed for Gibraltar, where we were relieved from foreign duty by two smaller ships, and ordered to proceed to the United States on Aug. 31—after six weeks in the Spanish war."

the regional poultry group will present proposed legislation at a meeting of more than 50 poultrymen, to gather in the Farm bureau assembly hall. A. H. Heineman of Orange is chairman.

DENTIST
Phone 2885 For Appointment
New Location: 410 1/2 North Main

He was born a Baptist, raised a Quaker, married a Presbyterian—and now he's a Presbyterian. He's been a dental assistant, a general merchandise store clerk, a railroad engineer, a mayor, and an orange grower. Right now he's still glowing oranges and running for the assembly.

Educated Here
Watson's not quite a native son. He was born near Indianapolis in 1875. His mother died when he was seven years old, and he came to California with an uncle and an aunt. He grew up in Santa Ana and was educated in the local grammar and high schools.

After working and studying in the office of Dr. W. H. Menges, young Watson left to start in as a clerk in a general merchandise store at Needles. Next he went to Prescott, Ariz., where he followed the same line of work.

When the Union Pacific started building railroads in Southern California, he went to work for that line, which constructed the road from Los Angeles to Las Vegas, Nev.

Mayor Two Years
Twenty years ago he came back to Orange county and set out an orange grove near Orange. He's been there ever since.

He pitched right into public affairs and civic work in the county. He served four years on the Orange city council and two years as mayor of that city. For eight years he was a member of the Orange high school board and is now a member of the board of directors of Villa Park packinghouse. The thing he's proudest of—and rightly so—is the Orange city park, one of the best in Southern California, for which he started activity years ago and which was recently completed.

Family Active
He's not a joiner. His only club affiliation is the Orange Rotary club.

The rest of the family's hacking out a name for itself, too. Mrs. Watson is a past president of the Woman's club and is active in P. E. O. work. His son, Dr. Ralph Watson, is a dentist in Santa Ana.

THREE BADLY INJURED IN TRAFFIC

Three persons were in hospitals today with critical injuries incurred in week-end traffic accidents.

Dr. Loman C. Adams and Mrs. Adams, 1403 North Flower street, were in Santa Ana Valley hospital with serious injuries resulting from a crash between the Adams car and a freight car at a railroad crossing southeast of Tustin Saturday night.

The train crew said flares had been placed at the crossing, but that evidently Dr. Adams was unable to see them or the car because of a heavy rain. The car overturned after the crash.

Hit-Run Case
Mrs. Clinton Downing, 74, Pasadena, was in St. Joseph's hospital with a fractured vertebra, the result of a crash with a hit-and-run driver Saturday afternoon on Huntington Beach boulevard. Her husband, Clinton Downing, 72, was recovering from a fractured arm. They were treated at Huntington Beach and brought to the hospital in an ambulance. Bystanders said the other driver went to call aid but never returned.

Heavy rains resulted in several accidents, but no other persons were seriously injured. Albert Kanus, 25, Whittier, was being treated in the county hospital today for slight injuries incurred yesterday when a car containing eight persons skidded and overturned near San Juan Capistrano.

Car Overtures
Mrs. Blanche Griset, 42, Tustin, was slightly injured yesterday when a car driven by her husband,

RUSSIA DETERMINED TO QUIT FACT, IS REPORT
MOSCOW. (AP)—Russia, angered over delay in application of practical measures to enforce neutrality in the Spanish civil war, is determined to withdraw from the non-intervention accord, informed sources declared today.

Soviet denunciation of the "hands-off Spain" agreement signed by 27 European nations will be based on the assertion public opinion can no longer tolerate the "disgraceful situation" to which the neutrality pact has sunk, these sources asserted.

The Kremlin has made up its mind on the withdrawal, it was reported, and may announce its decision tomorrow.

Chinese Seeking Citrus Trees

Not all the tea in China satisfies the Chinese; they want Orange county citrus.

C. R. Kellogg, writing from the Fukien Christian university, Poochow, China, today had requested information on citrus trees and prices, from the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce.

"Many of my Chinese friends are interested in planting citrus trees," Kellogg wrote. His inquiry was turned over to Fred W. May, Santa Ana nurseryman.

Gaston Griset, 47, skidded and overturned, south of El Toro. No injuries were reported yesterday afternoon near that location when a car driven by Nellie V. Rudolph, 33, Vista, skidded and ran into a ditch.

Cars driven by Robert Edward Fleischer, 18, and Horace Wilson, Los Angeles, collided near Dana Point yesterday. Neither driver was injured.
William Lage, 54, and Harry Symmonds, 61, both of Santa Ana, were cut and bruised this morning when Lage's car was involved in a collision with an auto driven by L. S. Sharp, 48, Santa Ana, in Orange. The Lage car struck a telephone pole after the crash. Sharp was unhurt.

EXPERTS SAY RAINS WILL CONTINUE

Don't put away that umbrella yet! The storm which for the past three days has been threatening real rainfall, and which deposited as much as an inch of water in some Orange county spots, is expected to hover through the night, departing with tomorrow's sun.

Government weather forecasters, who failed to predict first appearance of the storm, fell into the spirit of the thing today, insisting that further showers are due throughout tonight. Tomorrow, they predict, will be fair, although cooler.

Guessers in The Journal's rain and wind contest, were disappointed with the report that only 29 inches of rain fell in Santa Ana during the storm.

San Juan Capistrano residents reported the highest total fall for the storm, with 1.04 inches since early Friday. Other portions of the county received in the neighborhood of one-half inch. Los Angeles areas reported nearly three-fourths of an inch, with near-cloudbursts and light snowfall in surrounding mountains. No damage was reported in Orange county from the storm.

Tustin Pioneer Taken by Death

Linneaus Cock, 80, who spent the last 49 years of his life in Tustin, died suddenly of apoplexy yesterday at his home, 190 South D street.

Cock was a native of Tennessee, an honorary member of the Knights of Pythias, and a retired rancher. He is survived by his wife, Viola W. Cock, two daughters and five sons, Mrs. Elma Elmie, Mrs. Edith Eggert, Thomas, Edgar E., Walter T. and Howard B. Cock.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow at 2:30 p. m. from Smith and Tuthill's, with burial at Fairhaven.

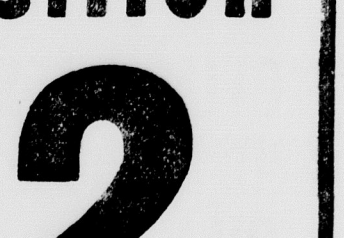

Stray Mules Add To Horse Mystery

Mrs. J. C. Shellhouse, Newport road, isn't sure whether she's lucky or unlucky.

Two weeks ago she reported a horse missing from her ranch. This morning two stray mules wandered into her yard. She reported them to the sheriff's office, but thought maybe they were sent her in exchange for the horse.

Proposition 22
VIOLATES ALL PRINCIPLES OF FAIR PLAY!
Proposition 22 (the so-called Retail Store License) on the November 3 ballot would charge individual stores $1 a year and chain stores $500.00 a year for each store over nine. It is an attempt to force chains out of business or make them raise prices. Here's how discriminatory and unfair it is to Van de Kamp's alone:

STORES ON WHEELS
Bakers with trucks calling house-to-house pay no tax. Van de Kamp's, competing with this type of service, pays $500.00 a year for each little neighborhood shop.
IS this FAIR?

LARGE DEPARTMENT STORES
No matter how many departments or how much business done annually, department stores and large food markets under single ownership pay only $1 a year—Van de Kamp's $500.00 for each little neighborhood shop.
IS this FAIR?

WHOLESALE BREAD BAKERY
Although selling bakery goods through many hundreds of groceries in competition with Van de Kamp's, wholesalers are exempt altogether from the tax.
IS this FAIR?

COMPETITIVE RETAIL BAKERY
The single bakery, baking on the premises, pays $1 a year. Whereas Van de Kamp's, operating a little shop in the same community, pays $500.00 per store per year.
IS this FAIR?

LITTLE VAN DE KAMP SHOP
Paying $500.00 a year for each little neighborhood shop over nine, Van de Kamp's tax will reach the staggering annual total of more than $60,000.00. A crippling burden, which would necessitate the closing of stores and cause more unemployment.
IS this FAIR?

Proposition 22 is so flagrantly unfair, it violates all principles of free and open competition. It would destroy or seriously restrict many chain companies now performing a service the public wants, as is evidenced by the public's patronage. Van de Kamp stores were established in the various communities in response to popular demand, in order to serve the public better, to offer a greater convenience. Those who believe in fair play, those who appreciate Van de Kamp's service, should vote NO on 22.

RALLY STAGED IN RAIN BY BOURBONS

Pierson Hall Addresses 200 at Barbecue in Irvine Park

Lady Luck doesn't love the Democrats, after all.

It rained on the Bourbon barbecue in Irvine park Saturday. The rain kept at least half of the anticipated Roosevelt rosters home, and chased the rest of them inside the pavilion to listen to talks by Pierson Hall, United States district attorney, and Orange county candidates.

Five hundred tickets were sold for the event. About 200 braved the weather to eat under the trees.

Democratic leaders, all Democrats to rally under the party banner Nov. 3, and insure election for each of the party candidates.

Roosevelt, he said, was "in the bag," and all local candidates needed was the united support of party members.

Ray Adkinson, county school superintendent, also addressed the group briefly, forecasting victory at the polls two weeks from next Tuesday.

Harry Westover, state senate candidate, Clyde Watson, candidate for assembly, 75th district, and James Heffron, assembly candidate from the 74th district, also spoke briefly.

The barbecue was under the direction of Joe Peterson, sub-chairman of the Democratic campaign committee. Music was furnished by the WPA hill-billy orchestra.

A 16-year-old boy was charged with disturbing the peace Saturday night after he assertedly blew his horn continuously at a North Main street mail shop. He will appear Friday in juvenile court. His name is being withheld by The Journal, because of his youth.

Townsend News, Views

By WALTER R. ROBB

(This is a non-political, non-partisan column, dealing in Townsend news and views, and written by a prominent Townsend leader. Any opinions which are expressed herein are not necessarily those of The Journal.)

Miss Frances Hansen, 16 year old Alhambra high school girl, and youngest member of the Los Angeles Townsend lecture bureau, was the center of attraction in the Saturday night meeting held in the Santa Ana Townsend hall. The meeting was attended by Townsend club members from all over Orange county and a pot-luck dinner at 6 p. m. It was a mighty enjoyable hour which was spent at the tables by the large gathering of Townsends. It was quite a sight to behold the hall literally covered with tables from back to front, and the diners having such a time as can only be had in Townsend pot-luck dinner affairs.

At 7:30 o'clock the mass meeting was called to order by J. H. Walsh, district organizer, for Orange and Riverside counties' Townsend movement. At a signal from Walsh the audience arose and swung into the sing of America with all the patriotic fervor common in Townsend gatherings.

Then with voices that rang with the purpose of deep resolve, the pledge of loyalty to the American flag, and the Republic for which it stands, was given in concert by the audience. An invocation was pronounced; and then Mrs. F. A. Parsons of Costa Mesa, was invited to lead the group in community singing. For the next 15 or 20 minutes the group had a lot of fun singing the campaign songs now in such favor with Townsend audiences.

Miss Hansen was presented by Chairman Walsh. She was plenty capable, as the audience shortly discovered. Miss Hansen began by pointing out the need of the younger voters being included as Townsends, so that the Townsend plan might become as early as possible the law of the nation.

She said, "the only reason the young folks are not yet as enthusiastically working for the Townsend plan, is because they do not yet understand it; not having studied it." She asserted her conviction that it will be still more beneficial to the young than to the old.

She painted a word picture of the many millions of young people coming out of high school and college with no other alternative but taking relief jobs or going to CCC camps. Said that 5,000,000 young people, between the ages of 16 and 25, are included among the unemployed of the nation. This, she illustrated, was ruinous to the best ideals of the young folks, and that many were turning to paths of crime because of no opportunity of honest employment.

Miss Hansen does what many older speakers cannot do. She speaks extemporaneously without notes of any kind, and speaks fluently and forcibly. She convinces her hearers that she is deeply serious in believing that the Townsend plan is the only way out for American youth. She is a member of the Alhambra high school debating team, and said she had been nicknamed by her school group as the little Townsendite.

Miss Hansen began speaking for the Townsend clubs in Yuma, Ariz., last April, and since then she has spoken all over the state to Townsend gatherings. On Labor day, she spoke at Alameda, to a gathering of 10,000 Townsends. Last summer while not in school she toured the northern portion of the state speaking to Townsend gatherings. She has a likable personality and wins the good will of her audience almost from the first word of her addresses.

She was emphatic Saturday night expressing her belief that the depression had been more harmful to the young than it had for the old; and pointed out the worst for them is yet to come unless the Townsend plan becomes a law, illustrating her point of view by quoting Herbert Hoover in the statement, "Blessed are the young people for they shall inherit the national debt."

Said the young people of this age had been referred to as the lost generation, and that America had never before dealt so harshly with its young people. She gave voice to the belief that what the young people wanted was not relief, but employment with honest opportunity for possible advancement; and that the spending power of the elderly would likely enhance business conditions until such opportunities would be general.

She deplored the opportunity which present conditions were making for those who would instill into youthful minds the tenets of Communism, and pointed out that the corrections within our government of present lack of opportunity for employment, would result in Communism having no appeal to the youth. She said that young people were being formed into Townsend clubs over the nation, and that 50 such organizations were now functioning in Los Angeles county alone. In conclusion she made an appeal for the Townsends to go to the polls in November, and vote for Townsend candidates.

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Parsons of Costa Mesa, pleased the audience with musical numbers. Mr. Parsons plays the tenor harp, while

RAINS QUENCH FOREST FIRES

SAN FRANCISCO. (AP)—Rains halted California's $1,000,000 forest fires and threatened damage today to a $1,000,000 lettuce crop.

Scattered fires throughout the state, which claimed three lives last Friday, were quenched or checked when rain, snow and cooler weather came to the aid of 1000 fire fighters.

Three more fire deaths had no connection with the blazes which ran wild before a hot wind last week. Coroner R. S. Jay blamed the death of three tiny tots at Madera on a penny dropped into a fuse box. He said it caused a short circuit, starting a fire which killed Elton Leroy Perry, 2½ years old, and Robert and Richard Perry, 3-month-old twins.

The same rains which relieved weary fire fighters brought a fresh crop of worry to strike-harassed lettuce growers of Salinas valley. If warm weather follows the rains, the lettuce will grow so fast the heads will burst open, making them useless commercially.

Warm weather might also give headway to two new blazes reported in northern California—north of the Noyo river in Mendocino county and north of the Klamath in Humboldt county.

Greatest damage from the controlled fires was in Tahoe National forest where Forest Supervisor De Witt Nelson said 3,000,000 feet of timber were destroyed, and in Sierra National forest where 14,000 acres were burned over.

In San Joaquin valley nearly 25,000 acres of brush were blackened. Brush and timber was burned on 7000 more acres near the ocean town of Bolinas.

GAS STOLEN

Theft of 15 gallons of gasoline from his service station Saturday was reported to the sheriff's office by Ted Fryatt, route 4, Santa Ana.

Mrs. Parsons plays the mouth harp and the auto harp. The combination makes very beautiful music.

Other speakers on the program Saturday night were Steele Finley, first district candidate for supervisor; Clyde A. Watson, Democratic nominee for the state assembly from the 74th district; and Harry C. Westover, Democratic nominee for the state senate from Orange county.

Tickets of admission to Townsend hall were sold at the door during the evening for whatever each corner cared to pay, from one cent up.

In all, the meeting was a mighty pleasing event to Townsends in attendance. Another county wide Townsend mass meeting has been planned for next Saturday evening to be held in the same place. Watch this column for more complete particulars.

REVIEW WON BY OREGON 'RED'

WASHINGTON. (AP)—Dirk de Jonge, a Communist, was granted a supreme court review today of his effort to escape a seven-year term in the Oregon state prison for violation of the state's criminal syndicalism law.

The court consented to review a decision of the Oregon supreme court, which upheld a verdict against de Jonge in the trial court at Portland, Ore., in 1934.

Provides Stiff Penalty

The Oregon law provides a penalty of one to 10 years imprisonment and a fine of $1000 for anyone who advocates criminal syndicalism, prints or circulates literature on the subject, or organizes groups for the purpose of teaching syndicalism.

A final ruling in a new attack by J. Edward Jones, New York securities dealer, on constitutionality of the 1933 "truth in securities" act was refused today by the supreme court.

Review Declined

It declined to review a ruling by the second circuit court of appeals at New York upholding a supreme court decision, before the court of appeals had acted, on validity of government loans and grants for municipally-owned electric systems in Texas and Alabama.

Forum Speaker to Tell About Asia

"The Present Situation in Asia" will be outlined at 7:30 p. m. today at a federal forum meeting in the Laguna Beach high school by Dr. Russell M. Story. He also will speak on the same subject tomorrow at the Tustin high school.

All draw on one bank account. They are two brothers who married two sisters.

It has been going on for nearly a quarter of a century.

For the unusual, the Neal Ward and Carl Ward families rival another famed Hollis quartet—the Keys quadruplets.

Neal Ward and Ula Dunlap were married Dec. 12, 1912, at Chillicothe, Texas. Scarcely more than a month later, Carl Ward married Fay Dunlap in the same city.

Even Children

The first child in each family was a girl, born within a few weeks of each other. Then boys were born, also a few weeks apart.

The daughters, Lorene and Marcella, went through school in the same classes, same activities, same clubs, were graduated at the same time, and, like their parents, married within a few weeks of each other.

The sons, J. M. and H. B., likewise kept pace in school. They are seniors in high school and both play on the football team.

Run a Bakery

The Carl Wards, parents of Lorene and J. M., also have a younger son, Carl Edward. Another son of Mr. and Mrs. Neal Ward died in infancy.

Both families work regular shifts at the Ward bakery. The wives "keep shop" on alternate days.

The "one-for-all" bank account began "as soon as we had money enough to put in a bank," said Carl.

The brothers and sisters look so much alike they often are taken for twins.

F. D. R. BACK IN WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON. (AP)—President Roosevelt settled himself at the White House today for a 40-hour stay, striving to clear his desk of an accumulation of business before resuming, in New England, his fast-traveling campaign for reelection.

He returned early today aboard a special train from his Hyde Park, N. Y., home.

Traveling by train and motor, Mr. Roosevelt will turn northward before mid-week for a six-speech campaign drive in three New England states, taking up not far from where he ended last week a 5000-mile midwestern tour.

Except to see a few cabinet officers, including Secretary of State Cordell Hull, in his study in the executive mansion, he had no engagements for the day.

Thursday night he will leave Washington for Rhode Island, Massachusetts and Connecticut, which have an aggregate of 22 electoral votes. All three states have been marked by Roosevelt lieutenants as "battle ground" territory.

GRID POSTPONEMENT

Postponement of the Santa Ana-Chaffey Junior college grid game here because of "prospects of rain" brought many hearty laughs over the week-end, and much unfavorable comment in newspapers throughout the Eastern conference.

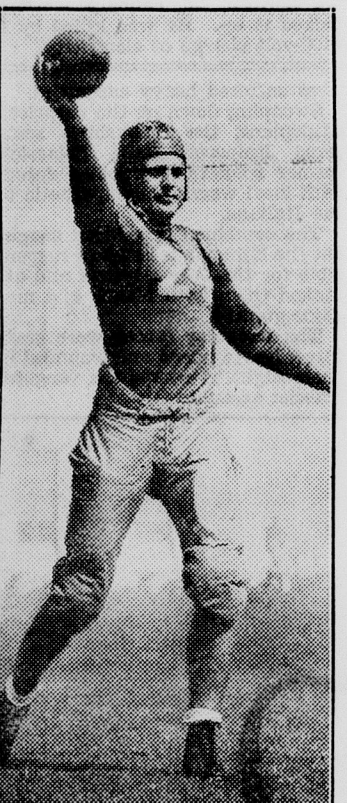

Foxy Bert Heiser, Chaffey's veteran coach, who dislikes nocturnal football, picked up his receiver at Ontario and phoned Coach Jesse Mortensen at nearby Riverside. He wanted to know if Mortensen planned to postpone his game at Fullerton. Mortensen said he would transport his Bengals to Fullerton and play "even if it does rain a little."

Then Heiser called Santa Ana anyway, and was successful in postponing the fray to his heart's delight—an afternoon meeting at the Bowl. It rained rather hard after midnight Friday, so another postponement to the night of Nov. 20 was necessary.

The shift will be a schedule handicap for the Dons, who now must face Pomona, Riverside, Chaffey and Fullerton in succession. But the shift was a benefit in that (1) it gave Santa Ana coaches an opportunity to scout the Riverside-Fullerton game and (2) a welcomed chance for two highly-touted Dons, Tackle Clarence Bolton and Halfback Ed Stanley, to treat leg injuries that have kept them inactive most of the season.

BLOWER IN ACTION

Here's the latest action shot of Floyd (Toy) Blower, University of California's No. 1 backfield threat who is rated one of the Pacific Coast conference's finest passers.

FLOYD (TOY) BLOWER Knows how to pass

The Santa Ana was no sensation against the inspired U. C. L. A. Bruins, who struck down their "big brothers" 17-6 Saturday, but he still has a chance for all-America honors by shining against Washington, Washington State, Southern California, Oregon and Stanford on successive week-ends.

Elongated Jim Johnson, the colored lad who has been in the background, was in line for a first-string end position at Santa Ana High school today, as Coaches Bill Foote and Reece Greene began whipping their preps in shape for their second Coast league stand with Long Beach Poly's defending champions here Saturday afternoon.

Johnson has shown class on defense ever since the practice opened last month, but it was not until the disappointing 0-0 draw with Chaffey at Pomona Friday that he flashed any form on offense. Foote heralded him as the outstanding lineman against Chaffey.

Nitta's Post Secure Mitsuo Nitta, 150-pound Japanese, who is an ace blocker, is certain of retaining the left wing position with Jim O'Connell, so it will be up to Larry Stump to fight it out with the improved negro for a varsity post.

Foote was well satisfied with the goal-line stands his linemen made against Chaffey, but thought their work between the 20-yard lines mediocre. He thoroughly disliked the lack of judgment Joe Kadowski, first-string quarterback with Hal Tucker, showed on the return of Chaffey's punts.

No Outside Scrimmages Outside of the probable promotion of Johnson, the Saint coaching staff will keep its first-string intact, with Bill Milligan and Ferris Wall at tackle, Bob Maddock and Lyle Moyer at guard, Don Warhurst at center, Capt. Dwight Nott and Len Stafford at Al Patterson at half and Bill Musick at fullback. Reserves Mark Stewart and Vernon Carney, tackles; Dick Horton, guard, and Bernard (Barney) Robinson, fullback, are showing improvement, and may oust one or two of the regulars. The Saints will not have any outside scrimmages this week. Coach Foote does not plan to risk injuring key players for the strenuous assignment with Orian Landreth's potent Long Beach eleven, co-favorite with San Diego to win the '36 crown.

S.C. BACKFIELD UNIT RIDDLED

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Southern California will probably be without its running-blocking combination of David Davis and Angelo Peccianti when the Trojans meet Stanford at Palo Alto this week.

Davis, rib cartilages torn in the Washington State game, may be able to play against the Indians, but his blocking fullback mate, Peccianti, will hardly get in the game. He developed a severe "charley horse" Saturday, and prospects of immediate recovery were feared remote.

America, rambled 97 yards for a touchdown that gave his Garden Grove eleven a 7-0 win over the Colonists four years ago. Friday, Ray's kid brother, Mearl, intercepted Clarence Calloway's wobbly pass and hot-footed in 95 yards to score a 6-0 upset for John Ward's Argonauts.

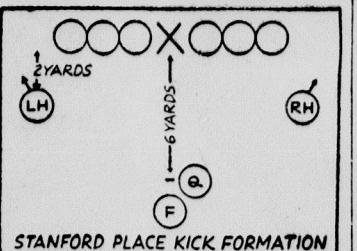

WINGBACKS
by TINY THORNHILL
A PRIMER OF THE WARNER SYSTEM

Many football games each season are won and lost by the single point from a perfect placekick. As long as the try for point after touchdown is part of the game, this particular phase is as important as any other.

It is interesting to note Stanford has developed some unusually accurate kickers from placement. Two of them, Bill Corbus, guard, of a few years back, and Monk Moscrip, end, the last three seasons, led the Pacific Coast conference in points scored in this department.

While these feats were largely the result of individual skill, the placekick formation employed undoubtedly has aided in the ultimate result.

The Stanford placement or field goal kicker is stationed six yards back of center. Kickers on other teams usually stand eight or nine yards back. Our line is tighter than on most other formations. Flanking each end and two yards behind is a back. They block—or else. The majority of blocked kicks are blocked from the sides. If the defense is able to come through the middle, the kicks will be blocked whether the kicker stands nine yards or more behind the line.

STANFORD PLACE KICK FORMATION

This is why Stanford kickers toe the ball from six yards back of the line. Those two or three yards might win a game some time.

Bruin Victory First in History Over Bears

Journal's Grid Game Won by Four Guessers

Four contestants will receive $5.75 apiece in The Journal's second weekly football-guessing game. All tied for first place with 15 winners out of a list of 24 games which included five ties and one postponement.

The winners: L. W. Norton, 805 South Park street. Bette Costello, 915 West Pine street.

Willard Smith, jr., R. D. No. 1, Orange. Harold W. Boyce, 1308 South Flower street.

Honorable mention went to the following who picked 14 winners: Eddie West, Howard Keegan, Larry Detweiler, Tell Thronson, Manuel Rodriguez, L. G. Rowray, Guy Grigg, Wanda Allen, Harold Welty, Mel Wiseman and G. M. Hicks, R. B. Hill and Hazel Thronson.

The third weekly list of games will appear in Tuesday's Journal. Ballots must be in the hands of the sports editor by Friday noon.

FOUR UNBEATEN ON COAST Gridiron Earthquake Nears

By HERBERT W. BARKER

NEW YORK. (AP)—Still suffering from the shock produced by the astonishing results of last week's far flung warfare, the football world drastically revised its form sheets today and looked forward to another possible gridiron earthquake when the general call to arms next is sounded.

Never in recent years have so many championship contenders been summarily removed from the ranking list in one comprehensive sweep. Seven major eastern powers, headed by Pitt and Princeton; Georgia Tech in the South, Texas in the Southwest, and Denver and Brigham Young in the Rocky Mountain district, all suffered their first defeats of the campaign.

Among major schools, here's the way the undefeated list shaped up today:

Four Unbeaten on Coast
East: Yale, Army, Fordham, Holy Cross, Duquesne, Villanova, Georgetown, George Washington and Catholic.
Midwest: Minnesota, Northwestern, Purdue, Notre Dame, Michigan State and Marquette.
Southwest: Texas A. & M., South Duke, North Carolina, Tulane, Louisiana State, Alabama and Auburn.
Far West: Southern California, Washington State, Santa Clara and St. Mary's.

Rocky Mountain: Utah and Utah State.

A radical revision downward in this list is certain this week as the following outlook for reveals:

East: One undefeated record will go to smash when Fordham, 20-6 victor over little Waynesburg last week, entertains St. Mary's Gaels, far western power, who were held to a 0-0 tie by San Francisco yesterday. Of the other undefeated eastern teams, Holy Cross, George Washington, Catholic and Georgetown will run considerable risks.

Holy Cross 13-7 conqueror of Manhattan, meets Carnegie Tech's Tartans who ruined Temple's perfect slate, 7-0, last week. Catholic, which stopped DePaul, 12-7, finds Mississippi's Undelky forces next in line, while Georgetown must tackle New York University, nosed out 14-13 by North Carolina. George Washington's foe will be Wake Forest.

Pitt vs. Notre Dame Duquesne, which sprang a tremendous upset in whipping Pitt, 7-0, on a 72-yard touchdown run by George Matsik, should handle West Virginia Wesleyan without undue trouble. Boston university surprised Washington university, 6-0, but looks overmatched against Villanova, 13-0 winner over Western Maryland.

Yale, which as usual, took advantage of all its opportunities, to beat Navy, 12-7, should be able to ease off against Rutgers. Army's cadets, who ran over Harvard all most at will, 32-0, look only for

CHICAGO PROS TOP LEAGUE

Santa Ana Scores for Cards, But Teammates Lose to N. Y., 14-6

CHICAGO. (AP)—It was the Chicago Bears against the field today in the National Professional Football league race, with the powerful Green Bay Packers the stand-out "dark horse."

Harold Pangle, former Santa Ana High school and Oregon State college star, scored a touchdown for the Chicago Cardinals in the first quarter, but his teammates lost to New York, 14-6, with "Tuffy" Leemans lugging the ball 118 yards from scrimmage.

Boston defeated Philadelphia's Eagles, 17-7. Qualifying as "the team to beat," the Chicago Bears yesterday won their fifth consecutive game by whipping Pittsburgh, Eastern division leader, 26 to 7, before 20,000 spectators. As the Packers bowed over the champion Detroit Lions in a 20 to 18 thriller, the Bears today were the only undefeated team in the circuit.

The Bears scored in every period except the third, handing the Pirates their second loss. Beattie Feathers scored two touchdowns and Gene Ronzani another on a pass from Carl Brumbaugh. The other Bear marker was by Bronko Nagurski, former Minnesota ace.

Baylor's Bears who rallied for three touchdowns in the fourth quarter to nip Texas, 21-18. Texas plays Rice which spilled Georgia, 13-6. Christian entertains Mississippi State.

South: Despite the 19-6 reverse at Duke's hands, Georgia Tech shares the southeastern conference lead with Louisiana State, each with two victories and no defeats. Alabama, Tulane and Auburn trail with a victory and a tie apiece.

Tech plays Vanderbilt, beaten 16-0 by Southern Methodist and Auburn, 6-0 winner over Detroit, meets Georgia, but the other leaders will be engaged outside the conference. Louisiana plays Arkansas, Tulane tackles North Carolina and Alabama, held to a scoreless tie by Tennessee, faces Loyola of New Orleans.

Kentucky and Florida are matched in the only other conference test.

Duke, with three victories, and North Carolina with two, are the leaders in the Southern conference. Duke's foe this week will be Tennessee. Five conference games will send North Carolina State against Virginia Tech, Richmond against Virginia Military, Davidson against Washington and Lee, and South Carolina against Clemson.

Oregon State vs. Bruins Far West: Washington, whose 19-7 victory over Oregon State, gave the Huskies undisputed possession of the lead with three victories, plays California, spilled by U. C. L. A., 17-6. Washington State and Southern California, who battled to a scoreless draw, still are undefeated both in and out of the conference.

Southern California meets Stanford next Saturday at Palo Alto, while Washington State plays Oregon State and U. C. L. A. meet in the only other conference game in Los Angeles.

Rocky Mountain: Utah, trouncing Denver, 31-6, Utah State, conqueror of Brigham Young, 13-0, share the lead and meet at Logan in a pivotal clash this week. Colorado university, which won its first conference start from Colorado Mines, 33-0, plays Colorado State, held to a surprising scoreless draw by Wyoming. Greeley-Western State, Denver-Wyoming, and Colorado State-Colorado Mines are other conference pairings.

HUSKIES LEAD COAST GRID SCRAMBLE

Washington Is Favored Over Bears Saturday; Troy at Stanford

By RUSS NEWLAND

SAN FRANCISCO. (AP)—Undefeated and untied in Coast conference play, University of Washington's Huskies square off against an enigmatic University of California eleven Saturday in one of the major football battles of the week-end.

Play of the two teams thus far has produced no reason to switch Washington from the role of top-heavy favorite. A week ago it outscored the University of California at Los Angeles Bruins, 14 to 0. Last Saturday the same Bruins smashed California's conference title hopes under a 17 to 6 count.

One week ago California was hard put to win from Oregon State, 7 to 0. Last Saturday Washington thumped O. S. C. into submission by a 19 to 7 score. On paper Washington rates as two touchdowns better than California.

St. Mary's Gaels, the Coast's leading independents whose national championship hopes were shattered by an underrated University of San Francisco eleven, are en route to New York to do battle Saturday with the Fordham Rams. The Dons held the Gaels to a scoreless tie Sunday. Six times the Gaels advanced to the touchdown door, with first down and goal to go, but each time the Dons stopped them cold.

South California and Washington State college, which played to a scoreless tie last Saturday and list no conference defeats, face strong opposition. The Trojans meet Stanford at Palo Alto and Washington State will try to hurdle the University of Oregon on the latter's home field.

The Stanford, who have trained for two weeks for U. S. C., probably will throw passes at every opportunity. Oregon has displayed potentialities in a steam roller type of play and has definitely bolstered pass defense weaknesses. The Wolfcreek knocked over Idaho, 13 to 0, Saturday.

The U. C. L. A. Bruins remain at home to take on an Oregon State eleven which already has lost three conference games and seemingly is destined to win none which count in the championship race this season. Idaho meets Nevada, and Montana, 6-0 victor over tough little Gonzaga, lines up against Montana State in games outside the conference.

U. C. L. A. Fullback Leading Coast's Gridiron Scorers

SAN FRANCISCO. (AP)—Big Bob Williams, fullback of the University of California at Los Angeles, leads individual scorers of the Pacific Coast conference to date with 25 points.

He forged to the front by kicking a field goal and adding a point after touchdown against California yesterday. Williams is the only conference player who has kicked field goals this season.

Umpire Says Carl Hubbell Better Than Dizzy Dean

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—"Beans" Reardon, after another season of umpiring in the National league, came back home for the winter and spread a word of praise for Carl Hubbell, Giant pitching star.

"Hubbell is a better pitcher than Dizzy Dean, only Dizzy puts up a big speech and commands attention," Reardon says. Hubbell never says a word on the mound. He takes the good breaks with the bad without a smile or a frown."

"Beans" recalled a close play he called in the 17th inning last summer that cost Hubbell a game with St. Louis.

"I ruled that the man sliding home with the winning run was safe because Catcher Gus Mancuso was off the plate. Mancuso says 'Phew, that's terrible,' and Travis Jackson gets mad and puts on an act on the field, but Hubbell doesn't say a word and walks off to the dugout."

"The next day," Reardon continued, "Mancuso comes over and tells me that when Hubbell went into the dressing room he informed the boys I'm not a highwayman because he saw with his own eyes that Mancuso was not covering the plate."

"Yes, sir, that Hubbell is a fine fellow and a great pitcher."

Fans Injured In Explosion At Grid Game

SAN FRANCISCO. (AP)—Football, fire and fights all mixed in a super-explosive gridiron setback for the powerful St. Mary's college Gaels, left a toll of burns, bruises and shattered hopes today.

Injuries to many fans came from an explosion of bunched rubber balls, fire fights and a near riot at Kezar stadium yesterday.

Hopes of the Gaels for national championship recognition were shattered by a scoreless tie—a "moral defeat" at the hands of San Francisco university's Dons.

Against the charging Gaels, who left after the game prevented a football university in New York next week-end, the Dons had only a stubborn goal-line defense which refused to break.

Seventeen men and boys, burned by the balloon explosion during the half-time intermission, required hospital treatment.

Two others, treated at the hospital, were injured in the near riot which kept most of the 35,000 fans in the stadium for more than half an hour after the game ended.

Scores of others were knocked down and bruised.

A policeman, making a lone attempt to save goal posts from celebrating U. S. F. footers, was tackled and sat on. Some fans charged he had drawn his gun.

Refering Nibs Price, who at one point in the game prevented a fight between players, was given a police guard from the field.

The bunched balloons, carrying a political advertisement, exploded in the outstretched hands of a thing which had left the St. Mary's station to grab them.

Mayor Angelo J. Rossi, sitting a short distance from the puff of flame which accompanied the explosion, said he believed the balloons were ignited by a cigaret.

Frederick Ziegel, Flint, Mich., is trying for his ninth varsity letter at Michigan State college this fall. Ziegel has won three each in baseball and swimming and two in football.

The heaviest man on the Louisiana State grid squad is Ben Friend, 240-pound tackle, who stands 6 feet 5 inches in height.

JAPANESE ACE OUTWEIGHED 65 POUNDS

Catch-as-Catch-Can and Jujitsu Will Govern Two of Three Falls

The 235-pound red-headed Pat O'Shocker and the Japanese jujitsu champion, 170-pound Kimar Kudo, will tangle in the best two-out-of-three falls, catch-as-catch-can and jujitsu mixed wrestling feature at Highway 101 arena tonight.

Fans who have seen Kudo spot giants from 50 to 100 pounds, and then make them say "uncle" in a jujitsu match, are of the opinion he will do the same to O'Shocker tonight and not only do it one fall, but also win the match with a carefully planned battle.

Name Rules for Third

The bout will be governed by jujitsu in the first fall, with catch-as-catch-can governing the second. The winner of the fastest fall will be privileged to name rules for the third fall.

Kudo believes he can stay away from the giant in the catch-as-catch-can match long enough to win the deciding fall, or rather earn the right to name the rules for the third.

His backers point out that in this case he would be a two-to-one shot over the red-headed mat giant. Kudo has beaten big men—men like Man Mountain Dean and Wee Willie Davis. He also has crashed Ernie Dusek with the Jackets on and under the Nipponese rules. He has no fear of O'Shocker.

Fearing a let-down after a week's illness due to their postponed game at game with San Bernardino, Coaches Bill Cook and Blanchard Beatty called out their Santa Ana Dons today to drill for San Bernardino in the Municipal bowl Friday night.

Although beaten 24-6, San Bernardino two weeks ago outgained the powerful Riverside champions who outclassed Fullerton, 14-7. Over the week-end, and Coach Doug Smythe's Braves should be no set-ups for the title-entertaining Dons.

Two cripples—Tackle Clarence Bolton and Halfback Ed Stanley—should be ready to play against San Bernardino, Cook said. Bolton has been bothered by wrenched knees, received against Long Beach, while Stanley has been held back by a troublesome "charley horse."

No changes are contemplated in the junior collegians' first-string of Co-Captain Al Titensor and Fred Erdhaus, ends; Ray Devine and Russell (Rusty) Roquet, tackles; Howard R. Sh and Carl Benson, guards; Bob Holmes, center; Bill Greshner, quarterback; Mac Beall or Al Lamb and Co-Capt. John Lehnhardt or Fred Lentz, halves; and Joe Herbert, fullback; Lehnhardt operates at full when not at outside half.

Roquet pulled a muscle in his thigh last week, but the injury should be healed by Friday night.

Here and There With The Journal's
Rambling County Editor

By I. N. (BRICK) GAINES

FOR THE second time in the past week, someone disagreed with something I've printed. Goody! It shows that I have readers, anyway!

This time, it's a letter from Mrs. Harry Kingsbury, president of the Midway City Woman's club. She's not angry at all, but is just pointing out a thing or two. I like the Midway City Woman's club. Members give us lots of news, and they have a nice front lawn for their clubhouse, which the firemen planted last year, and it's nice to receive a letter from the president, even if she is pointing out things.

The letter's about a recent clipping from the "Watch Tower," weekly paper feature written here in the county, which I swiped last week. The article giggles a bit at branch libraries in the county, describing musty tomes found in most of 'em as having been thoroughly thumbed by the feds' crew on Noah's ark and Chris Columbus' side-wheeler.

Here's Mrs. Kingsbury's defense of the library:

"Referring to a certain editorial column appearing in the Santa Ana Journal of Oct. 10, a reprint from the 'Watch Tower,' on the subject of county branch libraries. Upon careful consideration of the matter generally, the remarks do not seem quite fair. One statement especially raised my ire, and that was: 'Some of them are relics of antediluvian days. Many of the books were read by the crew that sailed on the Ark and put back for circulation in the county libraries.'"

"Each community varies in type of people, and it is true that the main county library supplies exactly what is requested by each branch library."

"Our community is a very small one and is not incorporated so that we have to depend on the county for our needs. Our county branch library, originally sponsored by the Midway City Woman's club, is only one year old. Our quarters, we admit, are small but very comfortable, and it means so much to the community. I happen to know that, at intervals, a complete replenishment of books is made. New fiction and other subjects are always found on our shelves and requests for books on every subject demanded—economics, religion, politics, art, technology, etc., are promptly supplied by the main county library. We especially appreciate this service here, where we are not favored by having motion picture houses or other public amusements."

"Our community, generally speaking, is of an intelligent class and all heads of families are employed. Our branch library has meant so much to our young people; has been a rendezvous for them in the evenings. We know that, as our community grows, and the demand on our county branch library becomes heavier, that the main county library will meet the necessary need for expansion. The turnover of books in our small library is about 900 per month. All of the books reviewed in our Woman's club book review section are supplied by our branch library and I can assure you they are not subjects read by 'Noah and his crew,' but are the very latest works published. We invite you to our community to investigate this matter personally."

Whew! I sorta got it in the neck again, didn't I? Looks like I'll have to go to Midway City and inspect the supply of books. But they'd better not have any publications autographed by Noah or any of his crew, or I'll sure be mad!

Speaking of necks—have you noticed the number of turkeys in the county this year? Seems like every small ranch has about ten dozen of 'em. Does that mean the price will be low this year? Or will it be high? Advice will be appreciated.

Incidentally, I'm known all over the county as an expert judge on the taste of turkeys. If anyone wants some fine right and left-handed tasting done, just cook up one of the flock, and let out a whoop!

Several of our weekly editors are becoming seriously agitated about the traffic situation in the county. Right along with the number of wrecks they point out that our highways are becoming more and more beautiful, mainly because of the huge number of beer cans strewn from here to there.

And it's not hokey, either. Yesterday, between Newport and Santa Ana, I counted 85 of the former containers of the brew. That's too many!

Vernor Beck, Capistrano poet and editor, last week accused the county of being unclean. He admitted we have the jewel of the counties, but charged "the borders of your beautiful highways are strewn with litter and empty beer cans."

"The report from Orange county will probably be this—Coast highway belongs to the state, they should keep it clean. But our response to that is this—the beauty belongs to Orange county, and to Orange county alone." Editor Beck says.

I agree with him. As a sugges-

Have signs along the road—'Drink here.' And, as an added inducement, put up targets so celebrants can heave the empty cans at 'em!"

COAST SEWER PLANT WORK STARTS

SUNSET BEACH.—Actual construction work on an $80,000 sewage disposal plant and new sewer mains for the Sunset Beach area started today, after a two-year battle by local authorities to bring the huge project to a conclusion.

Three construction companies started work this morning on a disposal system, new sewer mains and an outfall line. The O. U. Miracle company, San Diego, holds a contract for construction of the mains, at a cost of $45,725. H. A. Teget, Seal Beach, will build the disposal plant at a cost of $21,090 and George L. Miller, Beverly Hills, holds the contract for an outfall line at a cost of $3,950.

Residents of the Sunset Beach area first voted $45,000 in bonds for the work nearly two years ago. At that time it was hoped to tie in with the Seal Beach disposal plant, but an agreement between the two cities was never reached.

The bonds were insufficient to cover a complete plant for the Sunset Beach area, so officials sought SERRA aid, and were about to receive $109,000 from that agency when it went out of operation. Finally, a $45,000 PWA grant was received and work ordered to start at once.

Considerable litigation and local fights also held up work for some time, but with approval of the state board of health authorities were ordered to start construction as soon as possible on the new plant and outfall line.

Vote Against Higher Prices for Food and Other Necessities!

Vote "NO" on Proposition #22—a scheme to raise the cost of living by taxation

DO you think prices are high enough now? Then watch where you put your stamp on Proposition 22, called a "Retail Store License" on the November ballot.

It requires individual stores to pay $1.00 a year for the right to do business. But it taxes chain stores $500.00 for each store over nine.

Groups sponsoring the measure freely call it a "weapon"—a weapon to cripple the chain store by forcing it to raise its prices.

But you are the one who is hit by high prices. As the U.S. Federal Trade Commission says:

"If the ability to undersell, based on greater efficiency or on elimination of credit and delivery cost, is destroyed by taxation, it is the consuming public which will really pay the tax and not the chain."

Chain stores operate on a small profit. They eliminate middlemen's profits and unnecessary in-between expenses.

The savings they make by operating efficiently are passed on to you in prices 10% below the average. These are the figures of the Harvard (University) Bureau of Business Research, from a study of 32,998 chain stores.

Four out of five chain stores do not make enough profit to cover the tax. It can only be paid by higher prices—by money out of your pocket.

Some chains will go out of business. Thus their competitors will be able to raise prices even higher.

If you think that chain store rivalry helps to keep all prices in line with your pocketbook—if you think that TAXES ARE HIGH ENOUGH NOW, especially on FOODS, vote NO and keep prices low.

For remember, this tax is admittedly not a tax for revenue purposes. It is a cleverly camouflaged subsidy for wasteful business methods—and you will pay the bill.

No matter what its title...no matter how heavily disguised...22 is a tax on you—VOTE NO!

22 IS A TAX ON YOU—VOTE NO!

RETAIL STORE LICENSE		Referendum against act of Legislature (Chapter 849, Statutes 1935) requiring every person or organization owning, operating or controlling one or more stores, wherein merchandise is sold at retail, obtain annual State license; prescribing fifty cents application fee for each store and one dollar license fee for one store, increasing license fee progressively for second and additional stores to five hundred dollars for each store over nine; excepting filling stations, ice distributing establishments, restaurant facilities of common carriers, newspaper offices, stores wherein sales are incidental to rendering personal service, theatres and motion picture houses.

BOB'S MURDER DRAMATIZED

Characterized by Chief of Police James E. Davis of Los Angeles as "probably the most outstanding piece of police detection work in the records of the Los Angeles department," the true story of the arrest and conviction of the person who murdered young Dr. Robert Dubois a few days before Christmas, 1935, will be re-enacted in the swift, dramatic action in this week's broadcast of "Calling All Cars," from KVOE tonight at 7:30, under the title of "Noblesse Oblige."

The case that first appeared to be merely an "accidental homicide" proved to be one of the most amazing murders of the year.

Supporting the well-written radio adaptation, will be the atmospheric music of the orchestra under the direction of Frederick Stark. Narration will be by Charles Frederick Lindley.

One-Cent Slot Machine Gets Term for Woman

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—It was a one-cent transaction, but a municipal court jury decided it was gambling.

So Mrs. Ethel Jamison, store owner, had a 30-day suspended jail sentence today.

She was convicted of possessing a gambling device after Policeman James Mulligan testified he placed a penny in a slot machine in her store, pulled the lever, received a penny premium and cashed it with Mrs. Jamison.

'Atonement' Topic At Science Church

"Doctrine of Atonement" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon on Sunday in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts.

A Bible selection in the Lesson-Sermon included these verses from John: "These words spake Jesus, and lifted up his eyes to heaven, and said, Father, the hour is come, glorify thy Son, that thy Son may glorify thee. . . . I have manifested thy name unto the men which thou gavest me out of the world: thine they were, and thou gavest them me; and they have kept thy word. . . . And now I am no more in the world, but these are in the world, and I come to thee. Holy Father, keep through thine own name those whom thou hast given me, that they may be one, as we are. . . . And the glory which thou gavest me I have given them; that they may be one, even as we are one."

One of the passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, stated "Jesus aided in reconciling man to God by giving man a truer sense of Love, the divine Principle of Jesus' teachings, and this truer sense of Love redeems man from the law of matter, sin, and death by the law of Spirit, the law of divine Love."

++ Our Presidents ++

Chester A. Arthur Favored High Tariff

By ROBERT GARDNER

Chester A. Arthur took office when James A. Garfield was assassinated, as he was vice president. He was a lawyer of high repute and a leader of the "Stalwart" group which opposed civil service reform.

The first Chinese exclusion act and the anti-polygamy bill were passed during his term, as was a new protective tariff.

He was a handsome, dignified man. He retired to live in New York after his term was over, and he died a year later.

The principles laid down in the Chinese exclusion act and the polygamy bill have been followed, and have become part of our American system. All reputable historians agree that Arthur made a fine president, in spite of the political stories which preceded his taking office. He was a well-qualified man. He served as inspector general, collector of the port of New York, leader of the "Stalwarts," and vice president.

Biographical Data

He was born Oct. 5, 1830, the son of the Rev. William Arthur and Malvina Stone. Educated at Union college, he was a teacher and a lawyer, and a member of the Episcopal church. Married in 1859 to Ellen Lewis Herndon, he was the father of two sons and one daughter. He died Nov. 18, 1886.

Bourbons Laud Roosevelt Drought Measures; G. O. P. Scores Crop Curtailment

By THE DEMOCRATS

A fair comparison of the progressive Democratic party with the conservative Republican party may be made by considering the failure to furnish relief to people whose lands were blighted by drought in 1930, in the southwest. The Republican administration took the attitude that it was a local problem. Farmers whose crops failed were told they would have to depend on local charity to feed their children. The administration finally did agree that congress appropriate money to feed the live stock, which, being in the nature of property, were naturally given preference over human needs by reactionaries.

In the Central West a similar drought came in 1934. Instead of waiting until the people were desperate, the resources of the federal government under Roosevelt were mobilized to meet the urgent needs of the farmers. These victims were not treated like beggars asking alms, or referred to local charity.

National Problem

They were treated as American citizens afflicted by an inevitable calamity. Instead of considering the drought a local problem, President Roosevelt deemed it a national problem, and the relief offered an investment, not a charity.

In 1936 a more widespread drought visited the Central West and Northwest, and the federal government again met the emergency. Prompt steps were taken to assure conservation of water, seed, food and livestock; and the farmers rendered destitute by the drought are given work in the construction of useful projects, including roads, wells, dams and reservoirs.

Many of the people in Southern California came from the regions visited by the droughts and they know the conditions existing there, and whether the people are improvident, or worthy of federal help.

We have no assurance that a Landon administration would do any better than the Hoover administration did in 1930.

By THE REPUBLICANS

It is far more difficult to follow President Roosevelt's logic at Omaha than it is to answer his claims of soundness for New Deal farm policies. His "seven sentences" of justification for those policies are true, in the main, only if the first of the seven is a valid claim.

That sentence is: "By our agricultural adjustment act, our monetary policy, our soil conservation program, and our assistance to farm cooperatives, we raised the farmer's net annual income three and a half billion dollars, to a sum three times what it was in 1932."

Under the act referred to, before it was held unconstitutional, congress appropriated approximately $294,000,000. Part of that money was used for the conservation and other purposes of which Mr. Roosevelt spoke.

Food Destroyed

More than $7,000,000 was handed to the federal surplus commodity relief administration for distributing surplus food and meat to the needy. The food distributed was taken from the great surplus of farm production acquired by the New Deal's campaign of livestock slaughter, and grain purchases. Meat and food not needed for distribution were destroyed.

Before the destruction campaign was ended, drought began to take its toll, and found food surplus stores gone. Congress then was compelled to authorize another $525,000,000 for relief to farmers, and for seed to enable them to replant acres which had been laid waste a few months before by the AAA.

Thus America learned that unless the New Deal can control the weather, its program of crop curtailment and destruction is unsound.

HUDSON SUES ON TAXES

DETROIT. (AP) — The Hudson Motor Car company has filed suit in federal court against Giles Kavanagh, United States collector of international revenue here, asking $125,306.89 representing a claimed overpayment of excise and income taxes for 1929.

POSTAL UNITS CONVEINE IN SANTA ANA

San Gabriel and Orange County Groups Stage Dinner Meeting

The main goes through despite the weather—so postal employees of Orange county and San Gabriel valley didn't let the threat of rain stop them Saturday night.

They attended in record numbers a dinner, dance and entertainment at the American Legion clubhouse here. John Smallman, eminent conductor and authority on choral music, who has recently returned from a trip to Europe where he did study and research work, will talk on his musical experiences when he speaks before the Musical Arts club Wednesday at 6:30 p. m. at the Doris Kathryn tea room.

Smallman is considered one of the outstanding students of early English music in America, and is now director of all choral organizations at U. S. C. He will bring one of his soloists with him for the evening program.

All singers and choir directors are cordially invited. Reservations for the dinner must be made this evening with Miss Ruth Armstrong, phone 3636-J.

Veterans' Chief Visits Collins

Colonel Fay is the personal representative of Dr. Howard W. Seager, director of veterans' activities of the league in Southern California.

The Republican Service league is an organization of veterans working for election of Republican candidates in November.

CHILDREN AND CAR DRIVERS WARNED

WPA Fund Shortage Is Cause of Transfer to Park Job

Fifty WPA crossing guards at Orange county school intersections will be taken off duty tomorrow.

Parents whose children use these crossings were warning them today to use extra care in crossing the streets. The guards have been there throughout the school year so far, to see that automobiles stopped when pupils were in the intersections.

Children, accustomed to this protection, will be warned that they must depend entirely on their own judgment and caution in crossing streets where guards have been removed.

The Journal urges all automobile drivers to exert extra care when passing schools or school intersections, to avoid accidents.

Shortage of funds necessitated the shift, it was announced last week by Dan Mulhearn, WPA administrator here. He said the guards will be shifted to the Irvine park development project. The change will cut the guard force in half for three or four weeks, he said. The guards will be shifted from the crossings of lesser importance.

A supplemental project request has been sent to Washington for the continuance of the crossing guard project. Approval is not expected before three or four weeks.

At tonight's meeting he will outline the program of the society for the coming month in Orange county, which will be carried on from the newly opened branch office in Santa Ana.

Noted Artist and Portfolio Are Honored at Reception in Bowers Museum

Two Hundred Gather for Affair

Curator of Southwest Museum Is Guest Speaker

To mark the opening of Sunday visiting hours at Bowers' Memorial Museum and to honor a distinguished visitor in the city, more than 200 Santa Anans and out-of-town friends assembled yesterday afternoon at the museum for the reception honoring Dorothea Smith Sides, nationally known artist.

Mrs. Sides, whose portfolio, "Decorative Art of the Southwest Indians," has only recently come from the press, stood in the receiving line, sharing honors with Dr. F. W. Hodge, director of the Southwest museum, who was guest speaker at the afternoon.

Others assisting in receiving were Miss Lulu Minter, Thomas E. Williams, and Mrs. Frederick Robinson Smith, mother of the honored guest, and Mrs. F. E. Coulter.

Terry Stephenson presided as master of ceremonies during the lovely program marking the afternoon, opening with the dedication by Perry Rice of the old piano, which had been in his home for many years, and which was recently presented to the museum. The fact that Mme. Modjeska had used the piano in the Rice home adds to the interest of the piece.

Mr. Rice sang the old favorite, "Darling, I Am Growing Old," accompanied at the piano by Clarence Gustlin.

Music Enjoyed
A brief and lovely recital by Mr. Gustlin followed, the artist playing "To a Vanishing Race," by Cadman; "Cholla Dance," by Grum; and "Kor-Koshiki Dance," by Grum.

Mrs. W. F. Slabaugh was next introduced, favoring her audience with three beautiful numbers, "From the Land of the Sky-Blue Water," and "Ojibway Canoe Song," both by Cadman, and "By the Waters of Minnetonka," by Lieurance.

Several honored visitors were introduced, in addition to Mrs. Sides and Dr. Hodge, Mayor Fred C. Rowland speaking a few words in which he expressed pleasure at the Sunday opening, which extends the scope of Museum service.

Dr. Henry Wagner and his wife, Blanche Collet Wagner, were introduced, and also Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Sides' mother.

Dr. Hodge's talk was a delightful highlight of the afternoon, bringing to the Santa Ana group valuable information about Indian life, on which he is recognized as a national authority.

In speaking of the beautiful book prepared by Mrs. Sides, original paintings for which were on display yesterday at the museum, he pointed out that the original plan was to include the art of Indians from the Pacific Northwest down to and over to Arizona. What was omitted from this book, he said, will fill five more volumes of equal size.

"Southwest Museum," he concluded, "welcomes it (the book) as a valuable contribution."

"It is a feather in Santa Ana's cap, for it was prepared by the world-known Santa Ana Junior College Fine Arts Press."

Book on Exhibit
The book is illustrated throughout with beautiful paintings of the Indian people and their homes, visited by the artist in her study of her subject, and the plates were tinted entirely by hand labor.

Sunday's program closed with another selection by Mr. Gustlin, who played his own transcription of a Spanish serenade introduced to him by Madame Budrow, former Santa Ana musician, and a solo, "La Paloma," by Mrs. Slabaugh, playing her own accompaniment.

Punch was served to the guests during the afternoon, the hospitality of the hostess groups adding to the delight of the occasion.

Mrs. Sides, who responded graciously to her introduction and the greetings, is recognized in art circles all over the world for her ability to reproduce designs exactly according to scale. While studying in Europe she was the only woman allowed to go into the palaces to copy old tapestries and designs, being employed by the gallery of Florence to reproduce them for other artists.

Her new portfolio contains 100 drawings of Arizona, New Mexico and California in design and motif. It is bound appropriately in the

SPANISH HATS FOR AMERICANS

The Spanish revolution turned the fashion world's eyes toward the land of dark eyed señoritas. Sally Victor, inspired by the mantilla of a Castilian beauty, designs a black velvet toque which rises in a high ridge like a Spanish comb, tucks a red velvet rose on the side and drapes the whole with a black lace veil of the Spanish type.

PRETTY PARTY MARKS BIRTHDAY OF LITTLE GIRL

Little Audrienne Coe celebrated her sixth birthday last week in a happy way when her mother, Mrs. Franklin G. Coe, arranged a pretty Halloween affair for her and her friends at the family home, 1721 North Baker street.

The house was decorated appropriately in yellow and black, with pumpkins and other Halloween figures of crepe paper arranged here and there. Asters formed the floral decorations.

Guests were invited from 2 to 4:30 o'clock, and after a merry period of games, they were seated at a table laden in black and yellow appointments. Even candles on the birthday cake carried out these colors.

After the candle flames had been extinguished by the little honored guest, the cake was served, with ice cream, to her guests. Many nice gifts to mark the day were brought to Audrienne by the young friends.

Children invited to share the good time were Audrey Russell, Carol Carothers, Glenn Bassett, Eleanor and Margaret Abbott, Georgie Maloney, Franklin Coe, brother of the honored guest; Barbara Pickering, Carolyn Leighton and Flodina Alexander, and Audrienne's grandmother, Mrs. Myrtle Coe.

SPOOK PARTY ENDS WITH BUFFET SUPPER

Miss Nadine Colanich and Miss Marjorie Boardman joined as co-hostesses Friday night at a jolly Halloween party a merry group of 12 friends, all in costume, assembling at 6:30 o'clock in front of the latter's home.

At their meeting place they found a note which directed them to a den of spooks and other horrors in the elaborately decorated garage. Here games were played, prizes awarded, and with tales told, and the group then departed on a scavenger hunt which ended with a buffet supper at about 9:30 o'clock at the house.

Guests participating in the evening's merriment with the two hostesses were Lucille and Tommy Andrews, David and Douglas Carmichael, Marilyn Bear, Frances Becker, Richard Holmberg, Bobby Evans, and Bobby and Phyllis Gribble, the last two from Anaheim.

Indian motif, with a cover of goat-skin and a thunderbird worked in the cover design.

Wedding Has Beautiful Setting

Both the "something old" and the "something borrowed" of the old wedding tradition were embodied in the 150-year-old veil worn Sunday afternoon in a beautiful Santa Ana wedding ceremony, the veil having been worn by more than 75 brides before it was loaned to the bride of the October 18 ceremony.

The wedding was that of Miss Lois Lamb, attractive young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugo J. Lamb of 530 South Sycamore, and George Alfred Winter, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Winter of 1724 Valencia street, solemnized at 4 o'clock yesterday in the First Methodist church.

Chiffon velvet in a cream color to match the veil fashioned the lovely wedding dress, the skirt of which ended in a short train at the back; and the veil, loaned to the bride by Mrs. Fred Nelson, was caught to a crown of English lace with clusters of orange blossoms.

Beautiful Bouquet
The bridal bouquet was a formal arrangement of white roses, lilies of the valley and a center orchid, later removed for a corsage on the bride's going away suit. The bride wore as her only jewelry a beautiful platinum diamond-set watch, the gift of the bridegroom; and her attendants wore rhinestone clips and carried chiffon handkerchiefs to match their dresses, both the gifts of the bride.

Attending her as maid or honor was her sister, Miss Alice Lamb, who wore a green satin formal with a bandeau of yellow ribbons at the back of her head and a bouquet of the same flowers.

The Bridesmaids
The four bridesmaids each wearing a bandeau of small chrysanthemums in her hair to match her dress, were in all taffeta formal, Miss Helen Demetriou and Miss Esther Vogt wearing an ashen of roses shade and Miss Ruth Cummings and Miss Jean Benton, rust shade. All carried modest bouquets of chrysanthemums in an orchid tone, tied with taffeta ribbons.

Best man was Ralph Gordon, and the ushers were William Winton, a brother of the bridegroom; Paul Soest, Dick Soest and James Daneri. The Rev. Mr. James H. Sewell of the Church of Christ performed the marriage service, and the bride was given away by her father.

Music Before Rites
Halsted McCormac presided at the organ, playing accompaniments for Fred Germany, who sang "Believe Me, If All Those Endearing Young Charms" and "I Love You Truly," and played a solo organ recital of wedding songs before the wedding ceremony.

Flowers and Candles
Cream-colored tapers and flowers in autumn tints made a lovely background in the church auditorium, with ferns adding their grace and beauty to the floral decorations.

The fall colors also predominated in flowers at the Lamb home, where a reception was held after the ceremony, formal bouquets being arranged on the table and buffet where the wedding cake was cut.

Changing to a suit of steel grey with fur trim, and with her shoes, and purse and gloves in an eggplant shade, the bride departed early in the evening with her new husband for a motor trip to San Francisco, going up the coast and planning an inland route home. On their return they will live at 617½ North Van Ness.

The two mothers assisted in receiving. Mrs. Lamb wearing a dress of admiral blue chiffon velvet and Mrs. Winter a wine chiffon velvet. Both had corsages of gardenias.

A graduate of Santa Ana Junior college, the bride followed this with one year at Santa Barbara Teachers' college and then took a secretarial course at the local college. She is employed in the office of Griffith, Wagnerseller, and Durst in the First National bank building.

The bridegroom, a graduate of Santa Ana High school, is salesman for the Eddie Martin Petroleum corporation here.

About 150 relatives and friends gathered for the rites.

CONTRACT GROUP WILL MEET

The Junior Ebell contract section will meet for the first time this year on Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. in the clubhouse lounge. At this time the year's teacher will be decided upon, and it will be determined whether or not there will be two sections.

Mrs. Oliver Lindemeyer and Mrs. Herbert Stroehlein will be co-hostesses.

Soon-to-Wed Pair Are Honored

Two buffet suppers over the week-end were included among the final courtesies extended to Miss Jean Rowland and Wade Cargile before their marriage tomorrow afternoon at 5:30 o'clock in the chapel of the First Methodist church.

The bride-to-be, who is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Elliott Rowland of 2418 Fairmont, and the bridegroom-elect and his mother, Mrs. J. G. Cargile, both recently from Tulsa, Okla., shared honors last evening at a pretty supper party in Los Angeles, at the South Bronson avenue home of Dr. and Mrs. A. L. Collins. Dr. Collins, the host, is a former college friend and colleague in Kansas City of Dr. Rowland.

White candles in silver holders and a bowl of orchid button chrysanthemums centered the lace-covered table at which Mrs. Bruce Monroe poured during the supper hour, and other lovely blooms filled the home where the following were gathered for the evening:

Dr. and Mrs. Rowland and two daughters, Joan and Betty, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Quist, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Monroe, Mr. and Mrs. John S. McCarty, Mr. and Mrs. George Miles, and Terry Stephenson, Jr., of Santa Ana; Mrs. Cargile and son, Wade, of Tulsa; and Mr. and Mrs. Collins and their nephew from Oklahoma, Jack Collins.

On Saturday, the bridegroom-to-be was honored with a surprise shower at a lovely buffet supper courtesy arranged by Mrs. George Miles and Mrs. P. C. Brooks at the latter's home on Pacific avenue, Tustin.

The evening was spent informally, with opening and examining of the gifts providing the chief diversion; and at about midnight the guests were invited to the dining room where a spaghetti supper was served from a pretty lace-covered table. White and green candles and flowers formed the appointments.

Participating in this lovely pre-nuptial affair were Dr. and Mrs. Rowland and Jean and Betty, Mrs. Cargile and Wade, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Monroe, Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. John McCarty, Mrs. Edward Sugden, Mrs. Thomas Jentes, Mrs. A. Rossiter and son, Joe, Mr. and Mrs. A. Anderson of Huntington Beach, and Mr. and Mrs. Miles and Mr. and Mrs. Brooks.

THIMBLE CLUB TO MEET

The Thimble club of the Native Daughters of the Golden West will have an all-day sewing session Thursday at the home of Mrs. Florence Watson, 1707 West First street. There will be a 12:30 lunch. Last week the group was entertained by Mrs. Mattie Edwards and Miss Gladys Edwards at a baked-salmon dinner.

HOMEBUILDERS CLASS

Homebuilders of the First Christian church will meet for a pot-luck supper at 6:30 p. m. Tuesday in the educational building, with Mrs. Vern Bishop and Mrs. D. H. Tibbles as co-hostesses.

Mary Stoddard Parents Decide on Family Additions Instead of New Car Every Two Years

By MARY STODDARD

And still they flock in! From miles around, and from every station in life have come replies to Mrs. C. E.'s simple question concerning the raising of a family. It is impossible to print them all, but she receives them through me. Occasionally, however, I feel one is so exceptional that it will be of great interest to everyone. Such is the frank, sincere, whole-hearted letter printed below.

It is a delight to picture the character of the wife and mother who wrote it:

Dear Mary Stoddard: I have followed with interest all of the answers to Mrs. C. E.'s letter. I hope it is not too late to add my bit.

Perhaps some of your skeptical correspondents will say that we are impractical, improvident and so on, but we are happy.

We have four beautiful children—three girls and a boy. The oldest is 8 and the baby 9 months. We are seriously considering having another child as soon as this one is paid for and we've saved enough to buy a few necessities.

You see, it's like this: We'd rather have a new baby every two years or so than a new car as some of our friends do.

We are buying a lovely, rambling acres. We have our cow, chickens, garden and are not far from town.

My husband has built up a repair business of his own during and since the depression. I am caring for two little girls of 4 and 5 years for a reasonable amount each week. So all in all we feel we are getting along very nicely in spite of a fair sized family.

I can almost hear someone say, "Yes, it is all right while the children are small, but they'll never have any advantages." But don't fool yourselves! At one time I was quite a musician and still am able to teach the children. My husband is possessed of a seemingly unending knowledge of things which he passes on in an interesting way.

When I feel the need of something more than our income can afford, I take another child to care for for awhile.

At the present time I am working for an ironer. I am not buying it on time, but banking the money until I have enough to pay cash for it.

My husband is 32 and I am 30. In spite of our hard work and doing without we do not look any

I know my unworth. . . My heart-treasured flames are but a small man's yearnings toward great aims. I know I am a weak and little thing.

In this great world. Yet then I feel a king. Proud and yet humble, marveling that fate can give so much to one so far from great.

Hope thrills me, though my heart had seemed a cloud. Faith fills me—and deep gratitude to God.

LEE SHIPPEY, Los Angeles Times.

WILSON P. T. A.

The second meeting of the Woodrow Wilson Parent-Teacher association will be held Tuesday, Oct. 20, at 2:30 p. m. in the kindergarten room.

West-Jackson Nuptials on Saturday

Beautiful little All Saints Episcopal church in Santa Barbara formed the setting Saturday afternoon for the wedding of a popular Orange county couple, Miss Stella Jackson, daughter of Thomas W. Jackson of Anaheim, and Mr. L. Hume West, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. West, 2117 Victoria drive, Santa Ana.

Attended by two close friends, Miss Ann Tarver and Tevis T. Westgate of Santa Ana, the pair exchanged their vows before the Rev. Mr. John DeForest Pettus, rector of the church.

The bride wore a smart tree-green silk suit with brown accessories and an orchid corsage, the latter a gift from Dr. and Mrs. J. T. Brastad of Anaheim, who make a custom of presenting orchids from their gardens to their bride friends.

Miss Tarver was in black and white, and had a gardenia corsage.

Dinner at the Biltmore hotel in Los Angeles followed the wedding, and the newlyweds then left for their home at La Quinta, near Palm Springs. After Nov. 1 they will be at home at 219½ Buffalo in Santa Ana.

Both are popular members of the younger set of the county, and are affiliated with Tux and Gown, 50-50 and Comus clubs here.

The bride is a graduate of the Anaheim schools. Mr. West, who is a graduate of Santa Ana high school and Stanford university, is assistant engineer with the Industrial Fuel Supply company in Los Angeles.

older than our friends of the same age who spend their time and money on cars, drink and what they call fun. We take one night of a month to "splurge." And we do enjoy it so very much!

But after all is said and done, what more is there in life? My husband loves me and he is my ideal and we have our family. When we are old we'll still have our children and grandchildren. Our friends' cars will wear out, good times pass and I suppose they still will be wondering if their mates are stepping out and with whom. Sincerely, KATE.

Exercise Flabby Jaw Muscles

By JACQUELINE HUNT

Recently, when discussing the problem of why some women seem to age so much earlier than others, I pointed out that the first thing about a woman to give the impression of youth or age is her figure. On closer scrutiny, however, the face may confirm or deny this impression.

If the muscles that control and mold the facial features are strong and firm, you need not worry about your birthdays. The first signs of age are caused by lazy muscles that permit the jawline to droop and the underchin area to sag into unsightly folds.

The principal muscles of the face are those concerned with opening and closing the jaws, turning the head and stretching the neck. If you would keep them strong and firm, you must take circulation-stimulating treatments and exercises.

Sit erect on a straight chair, face forward and then turn your head as far to the left as it will go, and with a continuous, rotating movement, drop the head backward and slowly bring it back toward the right and forward, letting the head drop forward on the chest. Continue rotating the head slowly without stopping about 15 times. Repeat, moving the head in the opposite direction.

Apply cream to your shoulders, throat and face. Now take the pincer and start patting out over the tip of one shoulder and up along the big muscle until you reach your ear. Using the pincer, work over the chin and out along the jawline and up to the area in front of the ear. Repeat on each side about 10 times.

Next tilt your head back slightly—not enough to strain the muscles but to hold them firm—and pat from the center of the underchin outward to the heavy neck muscle. Then pat from your collarbone upward to the line of the jaw and tip of the chin. Pat from the jaw upward along the sides of the mouth to your nose. Go over this area on both sides about 10 times.

Wipe a way the excess cream. Now wrap a thin piece of cotton around the pincer, dip into ice astringent and go over the entire neck and face following the same movements.

By GLENN L. THORNE

So agitators are now trying to get our WPA workers into the strike business!

From Washington comes news that the Workers Alliance of America has outlined plans for a demonstration all this week in support of demands for higher wages, better conditions and collective bargaining for WPA workers.

And from Seattle we learn that the Project Workers' Union is having a "folded arms" strike on WPA projects as their part of the nationwide demonstration week. Here I thought all the time it was to be National Cheese week.

Anyway, guess by higher wages, they mean more money. And by better conditions: Shorter hours, smaller shovels, possibly equipped with seats, and plush covered up-hoistered boxes to sit on. And by collective bargaining: Dictate to Uncle Sam and tell him who's who besides those in the book; a WPA union card with closed shop and apprenticeship in shovel leaning.

Hope our local WPA "chapels" don't decide to walk out and play the strike game like the WAA and the PWU, 'cause Uncle Sam might think it a ball game with himself the umpire and say: Strike! You're out!

LAS MENINAS GIVE RUSSIAN DINNER

Rushes of Las Meninas, one of the junior college women's service groups, were honored at a Russian dinner Saturday night at the home of the president, Miss Helena Bailey, at 311 East Washington.

and found decorations and appointments in keeping with the theme. Brass candelabra tapers on the buffet and little brass holders with single candles in the centers of the small tables formed the only illumination in the rooms where the girls gathered from 6 to 9 o'clock, enjoying a six-course dinner in the mode of the Russians.

Tea, with jam in it for sweetening, and with nuts and dates on the side, was the first course, followed by "borsch," a thick beet soup. A rice, meat and tomato sauce combination wrapped in cabbage leaves, called "galuppi," was the third course; "saladski," made of lettuce and lemon dressing, was the fourth; "Burmia," a salad filled with applesauce and nuts and covered with a honey sauce, was the dessert; and more tea with jam and nuts followed.

In the evening, the group played "Lottaski," with prizes at the close going to Miss Betty Adams, first, and Miss Betty Bradley, second. Hostesses for the affair were Misses Bailey, Elsie Koks, Velma Kuechel, Liwellyn Allen, Eloise Walker, Dorothy Jenkins, and Betty Lee, members of Las Meninas, and Miss Dorothy Decker and Miss Genevieve Humiston, advisors.

Miss Irene Hylton and Arnold O. Lund, both of Anaheim, were quietly married here Friday night in a simple ceremony performed at the Santa Ana Wedding Chapel by the Rev. Virgil Ledbetter of Colton.

The bride, dressed in a black fur-trimmed suit with black accessories, wore as her single note of contrast a shoulder corsage of bovardia. She was attended by her sister, Mrs. John Henry of Anaheim, who in tailored navy blue, carried Tullman roses.

The groom was attended by Corning getting tomorrow afternoon from 3 to 5 at the home of Mrs. H. A. Johnston, 1401 South Los Angeles street, Anaheim.

The tea, sponsored by the Republican Women's organization of the county, will be attended by party candidates, many of whom will speak.

Prominent on Mrs. Johnson's list of assistants will be Mrs. Edith Cloyes of Santa Ana, Mrs. Frank Rospaw of Placentia and Mrs. C. A. Neighbors of Anaheim.

"Tobacco Heart" Is Explained

By CLAUD N. CHRISMAN, M.D.

When Columbus landed on our neighboring islands and proceeded with his explorations in Cuba, he found the use of tobacco almost universal.

Sixty years later, the plant was being introduced in Europe as one of the products of Mexico. Its acceptance was remarkable and its general use spread with great rapidity.

This is no attempt to settle any controversy but to afford some information concerning the composition of the weed and the effect of tobacco upon the user.

The principal constituent, however, from any medical or physiological viewpoint, is nicotine, so named in honor—perhaps a doubtful recognition—of Monsieur Jean Nicot, a French diplomat, who was first to bring scientific attention to the plant and who did much to make its use fashionable in France.

Nicotine is a colorless, liquid alkaloid, with a sharp, hot, bitter taste, and an alkaline reaction. It is highly volatile, and admittedly exceedingly poisonous. Its presence varies from one or two to as much as seven per cent.

Expert tobacco culture aims, of course, at the diminution of the nicotine and the stabilizing of the aroma. The proponents of the use of tobacco claim that it is at once a stimulant and a sedative. The warmth and fragrance generated by smoking add a sense of companionship and well-being. It is admitted that when used in moderation, tobacco slightly increases both the frequency and force of the cardiac beat.

Perhaps, the most frequent question in this connection is this: "What is tobacco heart?" Well, nicotine does not directly poison the cardiac muscle but excites certain filaments in such a way as to lessen their control of the heart muscles. This allows the heart to beat faster. It is a disturbance of the balance of the nervous forces that act upon the heart. This accounts for the palpitations sometimes suffered by the chronic tobacco user.

Woodrow Wilson P.-T. A. will meet at 2:30 p. m. tomorrow in the kindergarten room of the school.
